WASHINGTON, D.C. — blocks from the home of the press is a three-story, concrete building with heavy steel double-swing doors. Inside, the Report store on one side and the woman's shop on the other, it carries no signs of advertising. It wears an air of mystery and intrigue.

Pedestrians walking on the other side of Pennsylvania Avenue, past the big annex of the Library of Congress, can see men moving behind the blinds on the second and third floors. The ground floor is almost faceless except for the closed garage door.

"I think that building with the garage doors is the center of FBI wiretapping on Capitol Hill," says a 25-year-old Senator's assistant with passionate conviction.
"I can't prove a damn thing, but I know it."

Up another block, beyond the street-corner vendor selling cut flowers, is a small shop with a giant poster in the window bearing the word "Shhh, surveillance is taking place."

On the 10th floor of the Commerce Building, the former House of Representatives is being converted into a temporary office for the Senate Select Committee on Small Business.

Commerce Building and the former House of Representatives
on Small Business.

It is the crypto-analysis section of the FBI crime laboratory where everything from horse race bookies mysterious jottings to the code of the master Soviet spy Vladimir Ivanovich Abel have been broken.
